STONEMAN'S GREATEST VICTORY.

The nomination by the Democratic Convention of General Stoneman for Governor of California must have been a genuine surprise to all parties. The General is an amiable, clear headed gentleman, but is utterly lacking in force of character. General Stoneman achieved no distinctions during the war of the rebellion. He had none of the splendid audacity of Sheridan and Custer, nor of the Confederate officer Stuart. He seemed never to perceive his opportunity. His qualities are negative, and he is not likely to be more successful as a civilian than he was as a military commander. In the field General Stoneman too frequently encountered "men in buckram;" and as a politician he will be apt to waste his strength, like a modern Don Quixote, against windmills instead of giants. He has already perceived that "silence is golden" in a politician; and yet in his first brief words before the body which had nominated him his unwise tongue ran away with him. Alluding to his successful candidacy, this retired Union General said: "There is no victory that I have ever gained—in fact, all my victories put together—that gives more satisfaction than this!" None, most patriotic General! Not even a victory achieved in defense of the Union was comparable to the gratification of your personal ambition!

WESTERN TELEGRAMS.

Three Persons Drowned—Ship Afire.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.

This afternoon a small boat containing 10 persons, while attempting to reach Sausalito, capsized in Richardson's bay. Seven of those in the boat were rescued, but three—Miss Reinfield, aged 20; her sister, aged 12; and her brother, aged 18—were drowned. The bodies were not recovered.

The bark Roswell Sprague, which sailed from here to-day bound to Port Townsend, with a cargo of hay, caught fire beyond the heads and was towed back. The vessel is now beached and the fire extinguished, but the damage to hull and cargo is quite heavy.

LOS ANGELES, June 25.

Press Dispatches to EVENING GAZETTE.

EASTERN.

California Nominations.

WASHINGTON, June 25.

The Democratic nominations have been much discussed among Californians in Washington. The general impression is that the majority of them are strong. Stoneman's nomination is variously regarded by Republicans. Some say it is the best that could have been made by the Democrats. They assert that he will not poll the full vote of his party. It is generally considered that he will not be as popular with the city as with the country voters. Representative Page said to-night that he thought the nominations were pretty strong ones. Stoneman's record as a Railroad Commissioner was not such as to either help or injure his chances. When he was in the minority of the Board of Commissioners he was full of opposition to the railroad; but when his party was in the majority he did nothing, proving that his opposition to railroads amounted to little more than talk.

General Rosecrans thought the nominations were admirable. He himself has been warmly congratulated on his nomination, and he confidently expects a re-election. He thinks the nomination of General Stoneman was a great point on the part of the convention, and that the nomination for Congressmen at large is very strong. Other gentlemen familiar with California politics incline to the opinion that Stoneman will be defeated. His nomination has precipitated a conflict with the railroad which will result disastrously. One gentleman, a Republican, who arrived from California last week, said to-night that Stoneman would run behind his ticket, especially in the city. This gentleman also expressed the opinion, in which he differs from other Republicans, that Rosecrans will be elected.

Retiring Army Officers.

WASHINGTON, June 26.

The army appropriation bill containing a clause providing for the retirement of army officers at the age of 64 has been finally agreed to, and will be passed by both Houses this week. The War Department officials are preparing to execute the new law. A board of officers to retire disabled officials was convened at the Department last Friday. Several retirements were agreed upon. It was thought by many persons that Colonel F. J. Dent of the First Artillery, General Grant's relative, would be among the number retired at this time, but he has dodged the question for the present. The board recommended the retirement of Major McMillan, Second Artillery, and placed on the retired list Lieutenant-Colonel R. S. Williamson of the Corps of Engineers, he being found to be incapacitated by disability for active service. Orders are to be issued at once retiring Major McMillan, Captain J. H. Rollins of the Ordnance Department, and Major Napoleon B. McLaughlin, Tenth Cavalry. The last named officer is retired upon his own application, he having served thirty years. It is understood that as far as possible retirements for the present will be made from the line, although there are several surgeons, paymasters and chaplains who have made application to be retired.

Fatal Railroad Accident.

ST. PAUL, June 26.

An accident is reported on the Manitoba line near Atwater, Minn., of a most serious character. A work train, consisting of a caboose and 22 flat cars, such as are used for hauling gravel, running 18 miles per hour—more than is allowed working trains—was backing to a gravel pit at Atwater for a new road. Without any visible cause the engine and tender, caboose and five flat cars jumped the track, and turning on the embankment 13 feet high, tumbled into a pool of water, when an indescribable scene of confusion ensued. The following are the casualties so far as is known, although great difficulty is experienced in securing names, the workmen being Swedes and Norwegians: Killed—George Floridy, engineer; J. O. Doll, W. Johnson, S. Thompson, Torsten Berklund, Christianson Stale, John Holland. Injured—James Wilson, C. S. Sautburg, right side bruised; H. Stousson, badly bruised in back; Peter Ritemausen, right arm broken and internal injuries; Stremann, name unknown, both arms broken and amputated. The company is sending out relief to the train and is taking the wounded to Wilmer and giving them every attention. It is believed there are others under the cars in the pool. Workmen are at the wreck searching for the bodies.

Guiteau's Condition.

WASHINGTON, June 25.

Guiteau passed the day quietly. Dr. Hicks, his spiritual adviser, is the only person allowed to visit him. He conversed quite cheerfully yesterday. During the interview, which lasted an hour and a half, he said: "I am God's man and can go to heaven to-morrow. I would not mind being hanged right away. Whether the American people can afford to let me be hanged or whether they really desire I should die, is another question." Hicks thinks Guiteau really desires to be hanged with no member of his family present, and he is waiting calmly for the day of execution. The physical condition of the assassin has not changed much recently. He lost a pound or two of flesh last week and his face has that haggard appearance usually noticed in condemned criminals after long confinement. John W. Guiteau telegraphed President Arthur on Saturday asking to be heard in behalf of the application for a commission of lacy on his brother, and hopes to have a hearing. He has prepared a mass of letters and facts touching the mental condition of Charles since 1865, which he will submit to the President in support of the application.

Henry Stands In with the Boys.

NEW YORK, June 25.

In his sermon to-day Henry Ward Beecher endorsed the freight-handlers' strike as justifiable, and said the Knights of Labor and Workingmen's Union were popular. He did not at all approve of strikes. Cheapening of things was a grand thing, but people could not survive on the present wages.

Troublesome Crows.

FORT MCKINNEY, WY., June 26.

From reliable stock growers it is learned that there are about three thousand Crow Indians between Tongue and Powder rivers. They are very insolent and are killing cattle. Trouble is apprehended at any moment.

The Strikers Weakening.

ST. LOUIS, June 26.

The proprietor of the St. Louis sheet iron mill has accepted a proposition of the strikers to resume at Cincinnati prices. Three hundred men will probably begin labor July 1st.

More Wind.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 25.

A severe wind storm this evening blew down the steeple of the Episcopal cathedral and did considerable damage to other buildings. A negro boy was fatally hurt by a falling house.

FOREIGN.

A Sensible Philanthropist.

TORONTO, Ont., Canada, June 25.

A formal presentation to the city authorities was made to-day of the free swimming baths erected by Erastus Wyman of New York, a native of this city. The baths consist of two structures, one for working people moored at the foot of A street, in a densely populated part of the city, while the other is an extensive bathing pavilion located on an island opposite the city, around which a park of ten acres is to be completed and beautified as a public bathing place. Such facilities as these have not heretofore existed in Toronto.

The Egyptian Muddle.

LONDON, June 26.

A correspondent at Alexandria considers the present position of the Khedive very dangerous. The Khedive will be arrested at the first sign of foreign occupation. Arabi Pasha has stated that as soon as a foreign enemy has actually landed troops in Egypt, it will be his duty to fight until every drop of his blood is shed. Numbers of Arabs are starving. Crowds went to the house of Arabi Pasha on Saturday and asked for bread.

It is understood at Portsmouth that the expedition formed for Egypt has been organized. It is said troops will be embarked at Cyprus and Adel without delay, to guard the Suez Canal.

A Message from Melville.

LONDON, June 25.

Engineer Melville telegraphs from Yakutsk, under date of April 10th, as follows: "I have searched the coast from the river Alanik to the Jena, but have found no traces of the second cutter or Lieutenant Chipp's party. I have buried the remains of Lieutenant DeLong, Dr. Ambler, Mr. Jerome Collins and seamen Lee, Gartz, Dressler, Knack, Ivarsen and Boyd, and the Chinese servant Ah Tom. I have secured every paper pertaining to the expedition. Seaman Erickson and the Indian Alexa had already been buried on the river Lena. I am now en route to Irkutsk."

War Preparations.

LONDON, June 26.

The newspapers, under the heading, "English war preparations," give great prominence to the orders from the Admiralty for the immediate fitting out of the iron-clad Hotspur and preparations for the embarkation of marines at Chatham and the getting ready of troop ships for sea.

A Scandinavian Republic.

The movement for the severance of Norway from Sweden and for the establishment of a republic is assuming increasing proportions. Unpleasant complications are expected.

Rioting in Cork.

CORK, June 26.

[From the Republican of the 24th]
Thompson & Stone's shingle mill is running night and day.

Travel to the lakes continues brisk, the stages being loaded daily.

The sawmills around Emigrant Gap are running to their full capacity.

The Summit Ice Company is shipping about five car loads of ice per day.

There are but a few unemployed workmen to be found in Boca and vicinity.

It is said that Lonkey & Smith will remove their planing mill and box factory to Camp 16.

The railroad company will soon commence the erection of a freight house and depot at Boca.

Repairs on the old Alder creek flume will be completed in a few days, and the running of wood therein will be commenced immediately.

Wednesday last Judge Caldwell sentenced Jas. Ingersoll to pay a fine of $100, or in default thereof be imprisoned in the county jail for 50 days.

The Banner Mill of Lonkey & Smith started up Wednesday for the season. The Prosser creek mill will not start up for a couple of weeks yet.

The all-absorbing topic in Boca is the new hall. There is now $300 in the hands of the committee, and it is proposed to commence the work at once.

The bridge over the Truckee river, on the Truckee and Tahoe road, is not safe. Several teamsters have noted the fact, and consider that it is only a question of time when there will be an accident there.

Seventy-three men were counted at work on the new round-house yesterday. The windows are being put in and the walls are going up rapidly. Some idea of the magnitude may be gained by a visit to the building.

The box factory at Camp 16, which has been shut down for two weeks past on account of a broken planer, started up Monday and is now running to its fullest capacity. They have orders on hand for 40 car loads of boxes, which will keep them busy for some time.

UNCLE JIMMY.

Nevada's Working Senator Comes Marching Home.
United States Senator James G. Fair was a passenger on the overland last evening, en route to San Francisco. His visit at this time was unexpected. The Senator's business is supposed to be of a private nature, and in no way connected with his duties as a legislator and entirely remote from the stock or mining market. The Senator never looked better. His senatorial duties have not worried him much, if one can judge from his sleek appearance. "Uncle Jimmy" is as full of young lovers' "tally" as ever. He remarked, upon meeting several well-known Reno lawyers, that it was "the nicest looking lot of boys it had been his good fortune to meet for some time." A GAZETTE reporter improved the opportunity to inquire after our northern mail route, and the Senator said: "Young man, I will be candid with you. When the Postmaster-General inquired of me the needs of your people I informed him that I did not think you required a daily service to Fort Bidwell." So it seems that the discontinuance of the northern daily service is perhaps due to our own representative in the Senate. Congressman Cassidy, however, has been untiring in his endeavors to have the daily service continued and the people appreciate his efforts in our behalf. Senator Fair said that Senator Jones was as "busy as a sheep in a tar barrel" and that Cassidy was doing good work. The depression of business, when the Senator said: "Well, young man, what can you expect, and what are we to do to improve the condition of things? Real estate, I understand, has no value at all. I have a house in Virginia which cost me $50,000 and I do not suppose I could sell it for $150. The Senator, seeing that he was attracting too much of a crowd, slipped out into the night and boarded the train. He will remain a few days in San Francisco, then pay the Comstock a short visit.

Committee Meeting.

The Fourth of July committee of arrangements held a meeting Saturday evening. They decided upon the following order of exercises: Prayer by the Chaplain.
Reading of the Declaration of Independence.
Chorus (fifty voices)—"America."
Drake's Address to the American Flag.
Poem.
Chorus—"Star Spangled Banner."
Oration.
Chorus—"The Heavens are Telling."
Benediction.
Music by the band.
A communication from Secretary Thompson of Battery A was read and the committee decided to arrange for one section of the battery to come down. Asa Dawson was appointed a committee to make arrangements for the battery horses.
The committee found that in order to carry out the programme and treat visitors properly it was absolutely necessary to raise $200 more, and appointed W. A. Walker and C. C. Powning a committee to attend to that. The gentlemen went out this forenoon and collected the required amount.
Reno will be crowded with strangers on the Fourth, and it ought to be a part of every citizen's duty to see that visitors are well cared for.
The committee will have another meeting Saturday evening next.

The Baldwin.

Those who contemplate visiting San Francisco with the excursion leaving here on the first can find better accommodations at the Baldwin Hotel on Market street than at any other house in the city. The rooms are elegantly furnished and provided with all modern conveniences. The tables are loaded with every luxury obtainable in the San Francisco markets, and the servants are gentlemanly and attentive. In fact, one feels perfectly at home when under the hospitable roof of this magnificent hotel. It is well managed, and guests receive every attention. The terms are as reasonable as any house in the city. If you want comfort, luxury and first-class treatment in any way register your name at the Baldwin.

The Boy-Baby Boom.

Reno is the boss camp for the good of the country. The babies come thick and fast, and they are all boys. Last Friday Bob Buncel astonished the people with a young candidate for the Presidency. A few hours afterwards J. F. Emmett chipped in with a male ten-pounder; and the next day Johnny Parker called the turn with a noisy little youngster—that weighed about fifteen pounds. And babies are high-priced, too. Dr. Hutchinson says he wouldn't take the whole State of Nevada for his. "We don't know how they do it, but they do."

To the Ladies of Reno.

The teachers and scholars of Bishop Whitaker's school tender their sincere thanks to the many ladies of Reno who so kindly and generously aided in beautifying the house by their gift of flowers. Many were the hearts that were gladdened by their beauty and profusion. May we all enjoy many more commencement days together, and that the coming year may be full of happiness and prosperity for our Reno friends is the heart-felt wish of the school.

THE LAND OF LASSEN.

An Enterprise which will Reclaim a Large Area of Valuable Land.
[Lassen Advocate, June 22.]
A leading enterprise, from which, when completed, this county and the country to which it is tributary will derive untold benefits, is that being prosecuted by Captain C. A. Merrill and Peter N. Marker, under the name of the Lassen Flume and Land Company, the object of which is the tapping of Eagle Lake (which lies at an altitude of 8,130 feet, near the geographical center of the county), twelve feet beneath its surface at low-water mark with a tunnel and cuts 77,424 feet long, eight feet wide by six feet high in the clear, with a grade of one-half inch to the rod, or 18 1/2 feet fall in its entire length, which will flow 780,000,000 gallons of water every 24 hours. Assuming that it takes 3,600 gallons of water every 24 hours for a month to irrigate an acre of land (which is more than the farmers of Lassen county use on an average) the

GREAT VOLUME OF WATER.

Which will pass through that tunnel will furnish a quantity sufficient to irrigate 200,000 acres of land—equally as much or more than would a rainfall of twelve inches in three months (the period of time which the farmers here generally irrigate), because much of the moisture thus derived runs off into the streams and does little good. At Albion, a small place situated at the head of Willow Creek valley, the tunnel outlet discharges the water into the extreme head of Willow Creek, the channel of which is sufficiently large to carry this in addition to its natural flow of water, and through which it is conveyed along the northeast side of

WILLOW CREEK VALLEY.

To Belfast, a town which has been started at the north side of Honey Lake Valley, where the former intersects the latter. From this channel, about one and a half miles north of Belfast, the water will be taken in flumes and ditches, and conveyed east and west around the borders of Honey Lake Valley at sufficient altitude to reclaim from 100,000 to 150,000 acres of desert land, which to-day, for the want of water, are comparatively worthless, and which with water will become equally as valuable as any of the farms which are now being worked in the center of this large tract of land and irrigated with water taken from Susan river, which farms are worth from $15 to $30 per acre. It is no guess work to state that these desert lands will, with water, become equally as valuable as those above alluded to, which are located along the banks of the natural stream, for there are

FARMS AT BELFAST.

Now being worked which, but a year or two since, were covered with sage brush, that have been reclaimed with the surplus water which flows down Willow Creek, which the company has diverted therefrom by the means of a flume one and a half miles long, six by six feet square in the clear, beginning north of and discharging at Belfast, thence conveyed in ditches to the places desired. On these ranches there can now be seen growing alfalfa, corn, wheat, potatoes, all kinds of garden vegetables, gooseberries, currants, raspberries and shade trees. Hence it is only a question of when water can be had in sufficient quantities, that the great majority of lands in Honey Lake Valley, now covered with sage brush, will be transformed into profitable farms, yielding products in as great a variety and as abundantly as any lands now being worked.

THE LAKE RISING.

For the benefit of those skeptically inclined as to the probability of the source of the supply ultimately failing we will say that Eagle Lake is yearly rising, as has been shown by men who frequently gauge it. But a few years ago, a party of Government surveyors piled a mound of rocks on the south side of it, about five feet from the water's edge, in which they set a stake on which is cut characters to aid future work of the same nature. Now, that mound or monument is a least 12 feet in the lake. It is also satisfactorily shown that it is and has for many years been constantly rising, from the fact that large pine trees, which never originally grew under water, are to be seen in great numbers on the west side 15 and 20 feet beneath the surface of the water. Then, too, its area is quite extensive, containing about 116 square miles, with a watershed of about 900 square miles. With all of these facts existing it is pretty safe to assume that the comparatively small amount of water which it will be necessary to draw from this lake through the tunnel to irrigate even 200,000 acres of land for three months in the year will be more than replenished during the remaining nine months that the water will not be drawn off for any purpose.

A Bright Outlook.

In Sierra valley grain and grass are looking better than ever before; copious rains have fallen within the past two weeks, and the weather has been altogether unusually favorable. Farm laborers are in demand. Many farmers are ready to commence cutting hay, but can not find men to do the work.

MT. ST. MARY'S ACADEMY.

Today's Examination at this Popular Catholic School.

The examinations of the higher departments of this school took place to-day. The large concert hall, which was appropriately decorated with evergreens and flowers, presented a beautiful appearance. At 9 a. m. the exercises commenced with a chorus by the junior vocal class, which was rendered in a most excellent manner. This was followed by oral examinations in algebra, geography, arithmetic, history, grammar and geometry, and the answering by the pupils was remarkably good and the failures very few, considering the close and searching ordeal through which they were obliged to pass. Amelia Germain deserves special mention for readiness and intelligence manifested throughout all her examination. The essays "Love of Fame," by Miss Ella Mills and "Memory," by Miss Mary Harnett, displayed a high order of intellect and great research. By request, Miss Ella Mills was called upon to read hers a second time, which she did with much grace and effect. One of the most pleasing features on the programme was a recitation delivered by little L. Savage, which was executed with grace and skill seldom found combined in a child of such tender years. The recitation, "Minnie's Christmas Party," by Susie Elliott and Minnie Berry, and "True Heroism," by Lucy Irish, were also good and gave evidence of thorough and systematic training in the art of elocution. The music, vocal and instrumental, was well selected, and it would be invidious, where all did so well, to single out any for particular preference. The exercises concluded with a comic farce, after which the parents and friends dispersed, well pleased with the performance and complimenting the young ladies for their literary attainments and extolling the untiring and self-sacrificing energies of the good Sisters. The entertainment promises to be of a most interesting character. There will be a grand Jewish play, entitled "Sylvia's Jubilee," in which the young ladies will be attired in magnificent Hebrew costumes—something never before witnessed in Reno. Nothing has been spared to make the entertainment a success. Owing to present financial embarrassments the Sisters have been obliged to charge an entrance fee of $1. The admission ticket also entitles the bearer to a chance in a very handsome silver ewer, to be raffled for immediately after the closing exercises. This is truly an excellent institution, and deserves the patronage of the public for the vast amount of good that it has accomplished in so short a time.

Angora Goats.
It is learned from the Silver State that the business of raising Angora goats for their wool and skins is proving to be quite profitable on the Humboldt, near Battle Mountain. The Messenger says that at Bailey's ranch, on Mill creek, there are 1,400 full-grown goats and 300 kids. The range is very fine and goats have done extremely well there, and the future is very bright for a continuance of their growth. C. P. Bailey, of Man Jose, President of the Angora Glove Company, is the proprietor and general manager of the goat business, while E. L. Bailey is the manager at Mill creek. From this ranch there were sold to the Wyoming trade in 1880 1,900 goats, and last year 2,200 to the same trade. Mr. Bailey, the general manager, is now in California, arranging to bring over 1,600 more of the animals, a portion of which will be taken to the ranch, and the balance to Wyoming. Mr. Bailey says the goat business needs to be increased; that the demand for mohair and Angora gloves is constantly increasing, and that he is now extending the business of raising the goat in various places; that it is difficult to obtain a sufficient number of skins to supply their manufacture so as to meet the call for gloves.

Honest Injun.
A Honey Lake teamster, on leaving home for Reno, poked $100 under a sack of grain. On arriving here he employed an Indian to help him unload, not thinking of his money. The good Injun found it and went on the run after the owner to deliver it. He was rewarded with a fee of $5.

Got to Work.
J. C. McTernahan has got settled down to work at his hydraulic claim in the old Dogtown diggings, Mono county, and his prospects for getting a good wad of gold this season are decidedly bright.

Lassen Items.
The following items are culled from the Advocate of June 22:
Four wagon-loads of gypsies arrived in town yesterday.
The frame of the grist mill at Janesville has been raised.
There will be a rodeo at Judge McKissick's place on the Madeline plain, July 10.
Frost nipped some of the tender vegetables in and about town on Tuesday and Wednesday nights.
Haying has been commenced in some portions of the county, but the main work will not begin for ten days yet.

Opening of the Auburn Mill.

The old Auburn mill, or as it is more frequently called, the English mill, will to-day resume its old-time activity in the reduction of silver ore. The lessees of the mill, so we are informed, have contracted with the owners of the Mount Potosi, in Candelaria, to deliver to the mill a car load, or some ten to fifteen tons, daily. The first car load arrived yesterday. The ore is a chloride, and will probably yield a good percentage of its silver by simple amalgamation, by which method we understand it will be worked. We were not informed of the estimated value of the ore, but presume the grade is high enough to leave a margin for profit over the expense of transportation and milling. We hope the Auburn mill has entered upon a long course of prosperity.

A Dangerous Toy.

Johnnie Shoemaker and another little boy commenced their Fourth of July celebration this morning by firing a toy cannon. The little thing went off before the boys had time to retire to their breast-work, and the result was that Johnnie had his face very badly burned with powder.
